Read Mark 16:7-21.
Henceforth I call you not servants
but I have called you friends.
(John 15:15)

In Australia, transportation problems are very great because of the vast distances and small population. Australians know that good communications are vital to any community and so give full support to all plans to develop roads, rail, and air services. The need is so urgent that the cost of such services is added upon as a minor consideration.

To Christians, the cost of discipleship is not of prime importance. Expenditure of time and effort does not worry the true disciple of Christ. The outsider may say, "It costs too much to be a Christian." Such a thought never occurs to those who really know Christ. The joy of association with Him, of knowing His presence and His power, is such a vital experience that no cost hinders the Christian from trying to accomplish the will of God.

Companionship with Christ is of more value than the cost necessary to become and continue to be His follower and friend.

Prayer
Our Father, we thank Thee that we have the joy of knowing Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. May we live so close to Him that our happiness may make others want to share His friendship. In the Master's name, Amen.

Thought For The Day
To be Christ's friend is a privilege, not a sacrifice. —John Ruskin (Australia)
